

Special Education: Mr. Baker's Classroom Rules

I. Classroom Rules

- A. Follow directions the first time given.
- B. Be on time with necessary materials and assignments completed.
- C. Keep hands, feet, and objects to yourself.
- D. No swearing, teasing, or annoying disturbances.
- E. Raise hand before speaking.
- F. Stay in seat unless given permission to do otherwise.
- G. Report to my class and return to your classroom directly at scheduled times.

II. Consequences for violation of classroom rules.

- A. First violation - Warning.
- B. Second violation - Time out (the length of time will be decided by the teacher).
- C. Third violation - Pull card and/or note to parent if behavior continues.
- D. Fourth violation - Formal meeting involving student and teacher.
- E. Fifth violations - Formal meeting involving parent, student, and teacher.
- F. Sixth violation - Office referral - violation notice - option to involve counselor.

Note: The teacher has the flexibility to add rule(s) that pertain to a specific class. Also, teachers may skip steps in the classroom management plan based on severity or persistence of the offense(s).

III. Consequences for violation notice.

1st notice: Formal meeting involving principle, parent, student, and teacher after which time the student is suspended for the remainder of the day.

2nd notice: Notify parent. Immediate suspension May return to class within the next three days under parental supervision. The parent's attendance will be mandatory for the entire class period.

3rd notice: Notify parent. Immediate suspension pending board action

We are looking forward to a very exciting and educational year. I am confident discipline problems will be few and far between.